WINDFORCE NEWS

Issue 15 — 10th October 2013

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,

A lot has happened this summer. We enjoyed a successful WINDFORCE 2013 which brought together 800 participants in Bremerhaven. The premiere of our Workboats in Water Show met with a positive response, so we want to continue this new programme feature at WINDFORCE 2015 in Bremerhaven. In this newsletter we will provide you with information on the programme for WINDFORCE Baltic Sea, the two-day conference to be held in February 2014 for the second time, this time in Gdansk, Poland's beautiful Hanseatic city. Next year in June the offshore industry will meet again in Bremen for the WINDFORCE 2014 trade fair and conference, where many new exhibitors will be introducing their products and services.

We hope you enjoy reading our news and we look forward to meeting you in person again soon. Maybe at the EWEA in Frankfurt?

1. WINDFORCE Baltic Sea 2014 2014 in Gdansk/Poland – representatives from all Baltic countries will be there

After the successful launch of the WINDFORCE Baltic Sea event in February 2013 in Stockholm with 100 international participants, plans for the next conference in Gdansk/Poland are nearing completion. From 5 to 6 February 2014, WINDFORCE Baltic Sea will be held at the Radisson Blu Hotel in lovely Gdansk. Representatives of offshore wind energy associations in Sweden, Finland, Estonia, Lithuania, Germany and Poland have already confirmed their participation. "There is no other conference that offers more consolidated insight into the development of the offshore wind industry in the Baltic countries", said Jens Eckhoff, managing director of the Offshore Wind Messe und Veranstaltungen GmbH; he is organising the conference in cooperation with Wind Energy Agency WAB.

Eight theme sessions will address logistics, financing, and political framework conditions. One session will focus especially on the Polish offshore industry. Mariusz Witonski, president of PTMEW, the Polish offshore wind association, is expecting to see clear signals from the government on offshore wind policy for Poland by the end of this year. If you wish to see the programme in detail and the list of speakers, please visit windforcebalticsea.com. We look forward to welcoming you to Gdansk.

2. WINDFORCE Baltic Sea 2014 Take advantage of the early booking discount now

Two days of consolidated knowledge input on all important aspects of wind power generation in the Baltic Sea costs EUR 850 (plus 23 % VAT in Poland). This price includes all conference papers, lunch buffets and snacks, documentation, and a Polish dinner on the evening of the first day; the offer is valid only until 31 October 2013. It is worth registering now because the standard registration fee will go up on 1 November to EUR 990 plus 23 % VAT. The final deadline for registration is 31 January 2014, and the number of participants is limited!

4. WINDFORCE 2014 Hall 5 nearly sold out – new exhibition areas now available in Hall 4

Preparations are already well underway for the second offshore industry trade fair in Germany, WINDFORCE 2014, with exhibition space in Hall 5 nearly sold out. “With more than 100 exhibitors registered, we have already sold most of the area available”, said organiser Jens Eckhoff, pleased with this positive interest. Many who already exhibited at the WINDFORCE 2012 event have rebooked their spaces. Others have chosen new spaces because they are looking to expand their exhibitions. It is noteworthy that the number of international exhibitors has increased to include, for example, Damen Shipyards and the Dieseko Group from the Netherlands, ROVOP from Scotland, and Tata Steel from Ireland. The idea of setting up a group of national pavilions is also being discussed at the moment. “We are very confident that the popularity of a trade fair dedicated exclusively to the offshore wind sector will continue to grow”, Jens Eckhoff continued, looking positively to the future. The WINDFORCE 2014 trade fair has been expanded to include Hall 4 so that businesses interested in presenting themselves in larger exhibition areas will still have access to attractive space. 5. WINDFORCE 2014 Sponsorship plan now published online

WINDFORCE sponsorship packages are in high demand. Whether the package is for the lunch buffet, name badges, key straps, or even a partial sponsorship, there are numerous ways you can use this opportunity to remind conference participants and trade fair visitors of your involvement with the offshore wind industry. The sponsorship plan, now available online, offers 25 different packages. If you have ideas of your own, please feel free to talk them through with the WINDFORCE team. We are now accepting applications for the package options and decisions on their allocation will be made starting at the end of November. With 800 international conference participants, more than 300 exhibitors from at home and abroad, and 6,000 trade visitors, WINDFORCE boasts a concentrated gathering of industry experts in the offshore wind industry like no other. To see the sponsorship plan, please go to www.windforce2014.com/sponsorship/
