Issue 21 – April 2014

Dear Newsletter Readers,

In just two months, on 17 June, WINDFORCE 2014 will be opening its doors and welcoming participants to three exciting and informative days in Bremen. In this newsletter we will tell you which exhibitors recently booked space at the WINDFORCE trade fair and which programme highlights you will be able to enjoy at the conference.

We wish you a happy Easter holiday and an enjoyable read!

Your WINDFORCE Team

P.S. Do you like our newsletter service? Should your colleagues, business partners and friends also know more about WINDFORCE? We would be more than happy for you to pass on our newsletter to them.

WINDFORCE 2014 Bremen

Hildegard Müller and Klaus Töpfer will open the WINDFORCE event

High-profile personalities will open WAB's tenth offshore wind conference at 4 p.m. on 17 June. WINDFORCE's major sponsors – ALSTOM and General Cable – have already named their welcoming speakers: Markus Rieck, managing director of ALSTOM Renewable Germany, and Dr Günther Schöffner, managing director/CEO of Norddeutsche Seekabelwerke. We are also looking forward with excitement to hearing both Prof. Dr. Klaus Töpfer and Hildegard Müller, chair of the general executive management board of the German Association of Energy and Water Industries, address the audience. In a video message to the conference in 2007, Klaus Töpfer, formerly the executive director of the United Nations Environment Programme, expressed his views on the contribution of offshore wind power to the mitigation of climate change. Book your conference ticket now to be sure to attend the opening on 17 June 2014 in the Congress Centrum Bremen.

Early booking rates available only until 15 April!

Participants who register for WINDFORCE 2014 by 15 April 2014 can still take advantage of early booking rates. Tickets for the conference are available in various formats. The 3-day ticket includes the opening and the festive dinner; 2-day and 1-day tickets are for the conference only. We are also offering a new combination ticket for one conference day (either 18 or 19 June) plus one event, either the opening or the dinner. Register now at www.windforce2014.com/register for WINDFORCE 2014. All conference participants have free entry to the trade fair and are invited to the WINDFORCE party together with the exhibitors at the end of the first trade fair and conference day. We will tell you in the next newsletter who our special guest will be this year.

Excursion by air to wind farms in the North Sea

A bird's-eye view of wind farms! This year's WINDFORCE excursion is aiming high. On Monday, 16 June 2014, participants will have the opportunity to fly from Bremerhaven to view three operating wind farms and eight other projects still under construction in the North Sea. You can choose from four different aerial routes to get your personal impression of offshore wind capability. Small aircraft carrying up to eight passengers will allow participants a rare view of wind turbines. Book your seat for an unusual flight at: www.windforce2014.com.

New exhibitors at WINDFORCE 2014

More than 40 new businesses booked stands in February and March for WINDFORCE 2014. They include:

Meet us in Las Vegas at WINDPOWER!

The international wind power industry will meet from 5 to 8 May 2014 at the WINDPOWER event in Las Vegas. This annual exhibition and conference will be hosted by the American Wind Energy Association (AWEA). WINDFORCE 2014 will introduce itself for the first time in the United States at its own booth (No. 4408). There we can tell you more about WINDFORCE's options for exhibition and conference participation. Jens Eckhoff, WINDFORCE's managing director, will also introduce WINDFORCE at one of the "TIM" (Transformation in Motion) Talks on Tuesday, 6 May, at 11.45 a.m. Since the end of last year, the AWEA and WINDFORCE have agreed on a cooperative effort, which means that the AWEA will also have a booth at WINDFORCE 2014 in Bremen. For more information, please visit www.windpowerexpo.org. We look forward to welcoming you to our booth.
